1. DOCUMENTS REVIEWED IN FULL DURING THIS SESSION

- ☐ Attendance, Call-Outs, and Missed Sessions (New Hire Onboarding Guide, ILS Program) Version/date:
☐ QSP Documentation and Scheduling Guide (Sections 1–12) Version/date:

2. KEY TAKEAWAYS — ATTENDANCE, CALL-OUTS & MISSED SESSIONS

1. Call out at least 2 hours before my start time. A phone call to my assigned supervisor is required, and the call-out is not complete until my supervisor confirms it.
2. Every call-out must also be emailed to mylifeservices.attendance@gmail.com, copying Kristy Hatt, stating the shift date, whether I am claiming sick or PTO hours, and how many.
3. Late by 15 minutes or less: clock in, give the app a reason, and contact Gabriel Miranda myself — he will not amend my time automatically. Late by more than 15 minutes: still clock in, contact my supervisor the same day, and only my supervisor may ask Gabriel to change the time.
4. I may not delete a shift or change a service type without my supervisor's confirmation. Deleting a shift without approval, or recording a session as though it happened, may result in discipline up to and including termination.
5. Calling out means there is no extra work to make up those hours. Alternative work is available only when the client cancels.
6. If a client cancels or asks me to leave early: notify my supervisor immediately, clock out when I actually leave, and document it in my Daily Service Note.
7. All schedule updates and notes are completed the same day — not at payroll.

3. KEY TAKEAWAYS — QSP SCHEDULING & DOCUMENTATION

1. My monthly schedule is due in QSP the last Friday of the month, for the following month.
2. Before building it, I contact each case supervisor to confirm the hours they need reserved (roughly 2–5 per month), and each client's schedule must fit inside their authorized monthly ISP hours.
3. No direct service shift longer than 3.5 hours may be scheduled without approval from that client's case supervisor. I get approval first, then build the shift — scheduling it and asking afterward is not approval. This applies to extending a shift after the schedule is submitted, too.
4. Once submitted, any change to a client's shift must be approved by that client's case supervisor. Changing it myself in the app is not approval.
5. I use the correct service type every time: ILS Service, ILS Travel, ILS Misc (sick/PTO), or ILS Training.
6. A 30-minute unpaid meal period is required once I work more than 5 hours, and my waiver is void on any day over 6.00 hours. It must start before the end of my fifth hour worked, and I schedule it in QSP as its own Meal Break shift that does not overlap another shift.
7. QSP has no clock in or clock out for meal periods — the scheduled shift is the record. I take my meal at the time I scheduled it, and if anything prevents me from taking it, or from taking the full 30 minutes, I tell my supervisor the same day.
8. One paid 10-minute rest break per 4 hours worked, taken no later than my 3.5th hour, logged in QSP immediately upon returning — never before taking it, never at the end of the shift.
9. I clock in and out in real time at the client's location (geofencing), and I must complete all 3 DSN action items before I can clock out. One DSN per client, per shift.
10. Drive time between clients is a separate ILS Travel shift with mileage entered. Driving done during a client's session is logged in that shift's DSN instead.

4. EMPLOYEE ATTESTATION

I met with the trainer named above. Both documents in Section 1 were reviewed with me in full, the takeaways in Sections 2 and 3 were explained to me, and I had the opportunity to ask questions and my questions were answered. I understand these procedures, I am able to follow them without further assistance, and I received a copy of both documents. I understand that it is my responsibility to ask my supervisor before acting whenever I am unsure, and that repeated failure to follow these procedures may be addressed through the organization's progressive discipline policy.
